

Consular legalization of documents

Authentication of documents is a necessary procedure for the recognition of their eligibility for filing in other countries. In some cases, the documents issued on the territory of one country it is necessary to use in another country. To confirm their authenticity and validity necessary legalization that is the confirmation of the authenticity of the signature of the official of his official status and authenticity of the seal of the authority authorized to issue such documents. In legal practice there are two main types of legalization of documents. The first apostille. This method is simplistic and is based on the Hague agreement. It is worth remembering that the apostille documentation is possible only in the case where production of documents is required in one of the countries participating in the Hague Convention. In another case, the apostille is impossible and requires a more complicated procedure-namely, the consular legalization of documents. This method assurances documentation in contrast to the apostille more laborious and takes more time as it involves more steps and requires more careful preparation. For a number of documents of a commercial nature, the legalization procedure is reduced to the attestation at the chamber of Commerce of the Russian Federation and then at the Consulate of the destination country. Each person who met with such procedure as consular legalization of documents knows how difficult the process requires remarkable strength of patience and nerves of steel. It also takes a huge amount of time which is not always and not all. Even with his presence in life there are always more interesting and exciting lessons. And no matter how much we delayed the need for the documents does not disappear and then it is necessary to collect all will in a fist and go to storm the offices because sometimes the consular legalization of documents is vital. You can solve their problems the task of passing this procedure, the experts translation of the GOLDEN VULTURE. We are aware of cases when a serious event was in jeopardy because of overdue legalization. The lack of experience in this case is a serious obstacle. People without legal experience will not be able to undergo such procedure as legalization quickly. So use your free time wisely, please contact us and our experts will solve all the issues quickly and efficiently. First and foremost, consular legalization of documents begins with professional advice and determine what type of certification is needed in each case. We will advise You the proper solution to the problem will help to define the subject

Link to article:: Consular legalization of documents